

TEBBS Second Chances Collecting Stationery at You're Beautiful, Woman! 2010

At YBW!2010 we will be collecting stationery for TEBBS Second Chances, please visit our stall in the Market Place to make your donation and show support. The stationery will be donated to a school in Sierra Leone during a special trip scheduled for October 2010 where we will personally deliver the items collected. Tebbs Second chances founder, Fiona Luke said: "We at Tebbs Second Chances are excited to be a part of this wonderful event. And encourage you all to support YBW by being there on the 7th August 2010 to help make this day a success".

Current Project

This year we will be gifting stationery items to Hi Lance School in Sierra Leone, aiming to bring a smile to 200 children. Also we will be working in partnership with Luminati Youth Leadership Foundation and working at the Fattah Rahman Municipal School in Freetown. Info: www.tebbssc.com

Notes to editor

- TEBBS SC offer a helping hand to people who are less fortunate. The ordinary people who are trying to achieve the extraordinary by building their community, whether by schooling children in their homes or in a traditional school environment, but cannot survive due to the economic climate of the country in which they live. Our first step to achieving this vision is by doing the stationery project. The items we collect will not be solely for the school but for the children of the school. We will personally deliver the items to each child at both schools we have identified. This is to guarantee that each child gets his/her own share. Our first project in 2009 was for two schools that TEBBS SC founder, Fiona Luke, visited in Sierra Leone With TEBBS SC communications officer, Sophia A Jackson. In time we will seek to reach other African and Caribbean countries.
